

WHAT DOES THERAPY AT BRAIN INTERCEPT LOOK LIKE?

The brain is an extremely complex organ. It can be affected by many different symptoms or conditions and the result may affect how you manage your day-to-day tasks or activities.

Your brain controls every other aspect of your body and due to this it is the place we need to start when trying to identify any daily dysfunction a person may be experiencing, whether young or old.

For some, when they experience any brain irregularity they may get a sense of panic, worry, and/or not know which way to turn to help themselves or someone they love.

For others, they may naturally learn to adapt and accept changes or challenges they experience.

At Brain Intercept we are here to help you navigate these uncertainties. We support a range of ages and diagnoses or conditions. From elementary age children to older adults, we provide treatment for your brain related symptoms or conditions.

COGNITIVE, PSYCHOSOCIAL OR PHYSICAL CHANGES OR CHALLENGES

Difficulty with Executive Functions

- Poor judgment
- Making poor decisions
- Difficulty with problem-solving
- Difficulty making plans or organizing
- Difficulty initiating tasks or ensuring quality performance

Difficulty with Memory

- Missing appointments
- Missing bills or late payments
- Asking repeated questions
- Misplacing items

Difficulty with Attention

- Lacking focus or distractibility
- Difficulty with multi-tasking

Difficulty with Language

- Difficulty finding words or naming things
- Misspelling or making grammatical errors
- Requiring more effort to have fluent speech
- Difficulty with reading or writing

Difficulty with Mood or Behavior

- Apathy
- Anxiety
- Depression
- Agitation
- Poor impulse control
- Loss of empathy
- Hallucinations or delusions

Difficulty with Basic Daily Tasks

- Home: household or self-care tasks
- Work: performance of expectations & duties
- School: focus, attention, reading, & behavior management
- Community: shopping, outings, & socialization

We have specialized therapists at the clinic to provide customized treatment for your specific area of concern. We offer both in-clinic and in-home options for treatment to meet you where you are most comfortable and provide solutions to your questions. Integration of each client's support system including family, friends, teachers, or care providers are also an integral part of therapy at Brain Intercept.

Payment for Services includes: acceptance of some insurance and private pay options.

BRAIN
INTERCEPT

 (605) 725-8885

 223 8th Ave NW, Ste 2
Aberdeen, SD 57401

BrainIntercept.com